NUMBER 3.

VISIT TO GRAYNE, FREDONIA AND DYCUSBURG.

Our Way Were Proud to Find the Crops Looking Well and Some Wheat in The Shock

Friday evening just in for supper we drove into Dycusburg one of the oldest, at one time, one of the most prosperous towns in Crittenden county. Having heard my good friends speak of the town and its friends of his early life, who were there sixty-five years ago, I felt I had long since earned the reward, I felt a strong desire to visit the town, the people and the high class farmers surrounding it are giving such loyal support to my a picturesque old town, one of the beautiful Cumberland and full of its big hearted citizens as ever lived the flag of the proud old wealth. And while the town met with many reverses, the power to take away the power of citizenship and the men, she will soon regain her old position as a business point.

Merchants of Dycusburg passed the test of two fearful destructive fires in the last years, one destroying 17 houses and the other 11. In spite of all this the town is being rebuilt and in a few years will have the old town new garb, with the flag of prosperity waving to the breeze from off the beautiful Cumberland.

Notwithstanding all the reverses striking the noted old town, we name the following business houses receiving a nice trade.

C. Bennett, Dealer in shoes and fancy groceries, tinware, etc. Also serving delightful cold drinks. Mr. Bennett is a clever gentleman and a safe business man.

Yancey Bros., have a nice store and sell staple and fancy groceries, cigars tobacco and post cards. They also dispense soft drinks and are enjoying a splendid trade.

Yancey Bros., are proprietors of a splendid Dry Goods business and are enjoying an enviable trade, won by fair dealing. They keep a high grade of fine goods that show a care for their trade that is appreciated.

J. D. Jones is proprietor of a Hardware business and is receiving a liberal patronage.

C. Griffin is owner of a Dry Goods business that a first glimpse of his neat store is sufficient guarantee that he knows his business. He is a clever polite gentleman, full of appreciation for the large trade given him.

W. B. Groves has a nice Dry Goods business and for the next two weeks will offer special bargains to his customers. All kinds of Dry Goods and shoes at cost. You can do no better than to see him if you want to make your dollars last longest.

The Hill House, a popular $1.00 a day house on the bank of the Cumberland, under management of genial J. I. Hill, is always ready to receive and care for the famished traveler.

Mrs. Josie Reynolds is proprietor of the popular $2.00 a day hostelry and particularly requests the patronage of the drummers.

F. D. Ramage owns the Livery Barn and is a clever courteous gentleman.

Cassidy & Dewey are owners of the flouring and grist mill and are popular as millers with a name for fair dealing that means much for their future. They are improving their mill for the new crop of wheat and deserve a liberal patronage for their pains and expense.

The Cannery factory is owned and operated by Smith and Wells who will now soon open operation for the season.

Clever L. F. Martin owns the ferry and for reliability and courteous treatment, has no equal on the Cumberland, from its source to its mouth.

Ed Henry is the proprietor of the blacksmith and repair shop and is counted the best horse-shoer in the "pennyridge".

E. M. Dalton is the polite and very accommodating Postmaster and owner of a grocery and confectionery.

J. B. Wadlington is one of the contractors and builders of the town and is well employed all the time.

C. A. Hill is owner of a first class barber shop and is a popular artist. He is a true Kentucky gentleman and good friend to the old Record-Press.

The town has a nice City Hall and three churches and will soon vote the question of a Graded School, that, from all reports will carry overwhelmingly.

We were treated while there to the following list of new subscribers:

Ed Henry, Cassidy & Dewey, Dycus Bros., J. R. Padon, F. D. Ramage, C. H. Hill, Miss Laura Bosier, J. E. Bell, J. R. Holder, F. H. Glenn, Mrs. Josie Reynolds, J. B. Pope, C. H. Hill, E. T. Doom, J. I. Hill, I. F. Martin, W. A. Smith, J. W. Guess, J. D. Peek, E. J. Brashier, B. W. Travis, C. M. Tabor, J. W. Simpson, with J. C. Bennett, Yancey Bros., J. C. Griffin as renewals. Of course we received many other subscribers there where names appear in Fredonia list on account of the Rural Route.

Thank you gentlemen for the new list of subscribers and for the many kindnesses shown me while there. I appreciate them and will soon be with you again. I have arranged for news to be furnished from your good town regularly and in addition you to send me any news note of interest to yourself or friends, even if it be about your fine stock or your

MISSIONARY DAY AT OLD EMMAUS

One of the Largest Crowd Ever Congregated at the Noted Old Country Church,

Missionary day at old Emmaus church Sunday, June, 12th 1910. The day being a beautiful one the people began to pour in large numbers and the beautiful valley in which Emmaus church is situated in seemed to be alive with people and it was estimated that there were 800 people and every one seemed to be glad that they were there.

The hour arrived for service to begin and our beloved pastor Bro. W. R. Gibbs preached a splendid sermon on missions and he made it so plain and convincing the duties and the necessity of missions that when the call came for donations everybody seemed anxious to give something for the cause and beyond the expectations of every one there was $50.27 raised. In addition to the splendid sermon that Bro. Gibbs preached, the choir led by Bro. Geo. D. Kinsolving rendered some beautiful songs and they were very appropriate for the occasion.

The dinner hour came and when dinner was announced ready, well your scribe never witnessed such a bountiful supply of delicious eatables, and if any one went away hungry it was their own fault, for there was enough left to feed as many more as was there.

The afternoon services came on and Bro. Blackburn delivered one of his able sermons on the duties of the Deacons after which Bro. Geo. D. Kinsolving was ordained one of the deacons of Emmaus church. The Presbytery that assisted in the ordination consisted of Bro. Blackburn, Moderator, Bros. W. R. Gibbs, Franks, Albert Butler, Tom Davenport and Chas. W. Fox. Bro. Blackburn read the charge and Bro. Franks rendered a beautiful prayer after which Bro. Gibbs closed the services.

The meeting was a success in every particular and will long be remembered with pleasant recollections.

Newt. Millikin Falls in Fairview Shaft at Noon Last Tuesday.

N. Millikin, aged about thirty five years and single, fell to the bottom of the 260 shaft of the Lead and Fluor Spar mines at Fairview Tuesday and when picked up he was found to be mangled and bruised almost beyond recognition.

At noon or in the morning as some report have it, he was seen to walk toward the shaft and to all appearance walked in. His parents reside near Marion and he has several brothers in the county, all respectable people.

We were unable to get a correct report up to press hour.

MORGANFIELD AND MARION IN HOT GAME

The Visitors Put Up A Good Fight Winning Both Game By Score of 6-2 and 2-0

On last Thursday Morganfield visited our city for a game of ball and were engaged by our boys in what has been termed, one of the hottest games of the season. The score stood at close of ninth inning 6 to 2 in favor of the visitors. The second game was the greatest battle ever fought on a local diamond resulting in another victory for the visitors by the score of 2 to 0.

We failed to get a report of the games by innings in time for publication. Thanks to our young friend Gray Rochester for a report that we made an effort to get in, but failed. We were absent when the games were played and as no one reported to us we have done the best we could.

The visitors played a clean game and there is nothing for us, but regrets that we could not win instead of losing. However we have such confidence in our boys that with the same men pitted against each in the last game that we feel that we can beat them in an another engagement

OUR REGULAR WASHINGTON LETTER.

Happenings at our National Capitol and What we may Expect Will Happen.

Washington, D. C. June (Special)—The week just ended has been marked with stirring events not only in the halls of national legislation, but the President, early in the week demonstrated his ability to gauge the temper of the people relative to railroad rate legislation by accomplishing a diplomatic coup against the railroads which has won him no end of praise from all sections of the county. By tact, fair play and good humor Mr. Taft succeeded in convincing the presidents of eastern railroads that an increase of freight rates before the passage of the railroad rate bill would result in litigation on the part of the government which might seriously cripple the railroads and put a temporary stop to railroad construction and the building of equipment. The representatives of the eastern trunk lines met the President in a spirit of friendliness and after a conference extending over several hours the railroad magnates agreed to withhold the advance until after the railroad rate bill had been finally agreed to by the two houses of Congress and then, after the bill had become a law, to proceed along lines laid down in the law to raise rates, with the right of review resting in the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Another event of great moment to the country at large was the final adoption of the conference report on the rivers and harbors appropriation bill without the change of an a. "i" or the crossing of a "t" from the agreement reached by the Senate and House conferees. Senator Bailey of Texas, Burton of Ohio, Beveridge of Indiana, Stone of Missouri, endeavored with all their eloquence and all their persuasiveness to send the bill back to conference with instructions to insert in the bill certain pet projects of theirs which had either been unfavorably reported upon by the Board of Engineers or which failed, as in Senator Burton's case, to appropriate for the National Waterways Commission of which he is chairman. But neither eloquence or cajoling, sarcasm or invective could change the minds of Senators and the conference report on the Rivers and Harbors bill, carrying nearly fifty-two millions of dollars was agreed to by a vote of 45 to 12, nine democrats and three republicans casting the negative vote. The House adopted the conference report late Friday evening and the bill, which regarded as the fairest and most equitable river and harbor bill ever prepared by the committees having such legislation in hand has gone to the President for signature.

E. Dana Durand, Director of the Census, is now devoting the greater portion of his time to organizing his force so that the public may know at the earliest possible moment the result of the Census of the leading cities of the county.

Director Durand is of the opinion that his force will be in readiness to tabulate the returns of the supervisors of the cities of the country of 25,000 or over so that announcements may be made public during the months of July and August. Full returns from many of the large cities of the country are now in the hands of the Director and the work of tabulation is about to commence. It was said today that the census of Washington would probably be the first to be announced to be followed as rapidly as possible by cities in the order in which return have been reported by the Supervisors. Director Durand intends to issue two bulletins daily to the press of the county carrying announcements of the results of the census takers of the cities. One bulletin will be issued daily at 11 a. m. and a second at 6 o'clock, thus furnishing "copy" for afternoon and morning newspapers. When the work is fairly started these bulletins will fall thick and fast, and even at that it will probably consume the months of July and August to complete the returns from the cities.

The suggestion that the great engineering work on the various reclamation projects, inaugurated and carried forward by Director Newell and his associates, is about to be revolutionized by the removal from office of Director Newell and the appointment in his stead of an officer of the Engineer Corps of the army is not well received by members of Congress representing the States where this work, under civilian management, has already accomplished so much and promises even greater results.

In fact these western Congressmen are very outspoken in expressing their opposition to a change in the supervision of the Reclamation work. They doubt very much the wisdom of placing the construction work of the thirty odd reclamation projects under the control of an Army Engineer. If there should be a change, owing to the alleged difference between Director Newell and Secretary of the Interior Ballinger, these western men contend the work should be prosecuted under the direction of an engineer appointed from civil life and not under the supervision of an army engineer.

SOME VERY OLD DOCUMENTS

N. R. Farris & Co., Are In Possession of Some of The Oldest Documents in Kentucky

On our visit to Salem last week we were shown some legal documents 123 years old and yet in a high state of preservation. Among them was the signature of the first Governor of Kentucky, one, a suit on a note in 1787, the note was for $14.00 and the cost figured up $17.00. Another was a land grant for one of the first farms in Livingston county now the finest 800 acre farm in the county.

All of these old records are on the very highest quality of paper and though written with a quill, display penmanship far above the average of today. While the writing is plain and beautiful, it is not so easily read by those unaccustomed to it on account of the old way of making's and f.

Mr. Farris thinks a great deal of these old relics that he has gathered up, keeping them with his other valuables, in the Salem Bank.

BEST WISHES FOLLOW WALTER WALKER.

Beautiful Tribute Paid Him by the Editor of the Sentinel, Where he Served so Long.

Old Marion and Kentucky friends of Walter Walker, formerly manager of the Crittenden Press, which his father, R. C. Walker, established and owned for many years, will read with interest the following editorial farewell, written by the owner of the Grand Junction Daily Sentinel, of Grand Junction, Colo., of which Mr. Walker was city editor for six years.

Best Wishes Follow Him

Walter Walker, who for six years past has been the city and news editor of the Daily Sentinel, severed his connection with this paper yesterday. His going engenders a feeling of deep regret in all who have been connected with him in the work of producing The Sentinel.

No more loyal, conscientious or painstaking employe has ever worked on the staff of this paper. He was tireless in the performance of his duties, ever alert for news, and presented same to the readers of this paper in such an attractive manner that it won not only credit for the paper, but credit for himself individually.

He goes to a new field of endeavor in newspaper work, undertaking the publication of a paper which he has but recently purchased, and the good will of every man in the Sentinel office goes with him to his new home.

Unquestionably Mr. Walker will give to the people of Ouray a newspaper that will attract attention all over the state. He has a fine sense of the necessities demanded for a weekly newspaper publication, and, if untiring labor will consummate that object, Mr. Walker will give that to its production.

So few times do those engaged in newspaper work receive the credit due them for their work for the public that we feel it is timely to say that Mr. Walker worked at all times to make the city a greater Grand Junction. His mind had the scope and he was endowed with the ability as a writer to most attractively present the essential things that needed publicity, to attract attention to this valley.

The Sentinel will miss Mr. Walker greatly, but will hope to give the Grand Junction readers the same sprightly, direct and up-to-date newspaper that it always has been during the comparatively long term of its existence in this city, always having been a factor in the making of this great new empire in western Colorado.

As has been said before, The Sentinel is an institution of this city, having earned that distinction through the many years of its labors for it; so that its mission in the upbuilding of Grand Junction and the renowned Grand valley will be as ever in the past before it constantly. Its ambition will be to endeavor to secure a successor for Mr. Walker who at least, will be as loyal to the upbuilding of the city as he was, even though he may not fill the place filled so ably for such a term of years and which Mr. Walker now vacates to the keen regret of The Sentinel's publisher and a great mass of warm friends.

All the newspaper men of Grand Junction and Mesa county and a number from other cities gave Mr. Walker an elegant "farewell banquet" a few days before he left with Mrs. Walker for the new home.

TO OUR READERS!

By special arrangement we offer you a great opportunity to read

"Chantecler"

EDMOND ROSTAND'S wonderful "Chantecler" is the dramatic sensation of the world. In it Rostand proves himself to be one of the greatest dramatists of all times. "Chantecler" is not only the greatest play of the century—it is the one great play of the last hundred years. It is an exquisite story, palpitating with human sympathy and interest. It warms the blood—stirs the emotions—arouses every commensurable sentiment. "Chantecler" sparkles with wit—counsels with wise philosophy—entertains with fascinating idiom—while the tones of the hour bell of today, and today's problems, are heard through the medium of "Chantecler's" deliciously up-to-date slang. No language contains sufficient superlatives to describe it. Only reading and study will enable you to appreciate it. It has aroused all France—London has gone mad over it.

The Only English Translation

Rostand has chosen HAMPTON'S MAGAZINE as the medium through which to present "Chantecler" to the English reading world. The publication will be in four installments, one act to each installment, beginning in the June number. The translation is the same who helped to make "Cyrano de Bergerac" so popular among American booklovers.

We have made special arrangements with the publishers of HAMPTON'S by which our readers may get "Chantecler" and the many other fine features published in HAMPTON'S in connection with our own paper, practically without cost. Read our offer below.

"The True History of the Southern Pacific Railroad" by Charles Edward Russell is one of the greatest magazine serials ever published. Mrs. Knecht Childs Dorris' articles on the "Power of the Women's Clubs" are without an equal in their appeal to women everywhere. Fiction contributors include the foremost story-tellers of the world. Arthur Stringer has a new series called "The Adventures of an Insomniac;" James B. Connolly describes in several stories his Trip Around the World with the American Express; Frederick Palmer is contributing a series of amazing stories of which Danbury Reed is the central character. The only new detective fiction since Sherlock Holmes is published in the second series of stories about Father Lant, the psychological detective, written by Edwin Balmer and William G. MacHarg. A prominent, national expert on skin diseases who has made you familiar with facts that reveal his scientific experience he has never found so much evidence to conquer as Eczema. THE FISHER SHIP CONCERT

Presenting Comedy Sketches, Musical Program in En Semble and Solo, and Readings.

MAJESTIC THEATRE JUNE 27TH

Fisher Shipp must have been born in May. No other natal month could account for so many moods and delightful surprises. There is more than a hint of May time in her voice, for it is full of sunshine and life, suggestive of Spring. Fisher Shipp can sing. Two years with a great artist would make her a grand opera star. She has a voice of golden smoothness, lyric in quality and of remarkable range. (Of almost four octaves) sometimes thoroughly dramatic. That one so dainty and thoroughly feminine in appearance should possess a voice of such compass and power is a constant surprise and delight.

Fisher Shipp has other surprises in store for her hearers however. The applause hardly dies away in response to her songs when she makes her bow as reader of the company—vivid, charming—she enters into her work with all her soul and sweeps us along with her through laughter and tears, to the end of her story, and we know that she is a great reader—a great singer, a great entertainer.

Miss Shipp is a thorough master of her program and has a fine perception of climaxes and values. Result is a pleased and satisfied audience.

Associated with Miss Shipp are three artists exceptionally well qualified to help her in giving a thoroughly satisfactory program. Loar the "Wizard of the Mandolin" is a revelation to those who believe that instrument to occupy a secondary position in Musical excellence. Mr. Loar studied harmony, theory and orchestration in the Oberlin Mandolin Club. In addition to this he has had the experience of five full Lyceum seasons, and for two seasons played in most of the best vaudeville theatres of the west and south. He is recognized as one of the best mandolin virtuosos before the public, playing with a finish and power not usual on this instrument. In addition to the mandolin he uses the mandola, an instrument of his own invention, combining the best features of the mandolin and viola. This instrument has five strings, instead of four, an original system of tuning is also used, and in volume, power and facility of expression the effect is that of a complete orchestra. The instrument is undoubtedly one that forces recognition, as being capable of correctly and beautifully interpreting the best in music.

Lovers of vocal art will be pleased that we are able to include in this company Mrs. Etta Goode Heacock, whose beautiful, rich contralto voice has been cultivated by years of conscientious study under the most competent instructors of America, numerous engagements as soloist at music festivals, Chautauqs and other occasions, together with an extended concert and Lyceum experience.

Miss Georgia Erwin, violinist and harpist, is a charming girl of the Southland, a graduate of the Conservatory at Louisburg, Virginia. She completed her musical studies on both harp and violin with some of the best teachers in Chicago, her playing on each of these popular instruments is of the expressive soulful type that appeals most to the general public. The high standing of the company will be maintained by her excellent musical taste and ability.

HERE AND THERE

Time is moving on, the sun shines bright, the birds sing their sweet melody; the wild bees are buzzing here and there gathering the sweet from every flower.

Then the great comet and the dark clouds have passed away, the myrtle is growing on the brink, the fishes are swimming in the brook, and cattle are grazing in the fields, and all nature seems to smile as we plod on our pleasant way to the Sunday School, where we studied the following brief out line:

1. A group of parables of the kingdom.

2. How a parable should be considered. A brief narrative based upon real events in human nature delivered to impress moral and religious ideas.

3. The multitude on the seaside Jesus the teacher. The heart is more of a factor in interpreting the parables of Christ than the head.

Must have the spirit of the lesson.

The way side hearer. Who are these?

What is meant by snatching the "word" away? Who does this? How can it be prevented?

The Stony Ground Hearers.

What is meant by stony ground? What is superficial?

truth? Did they receive word?

The Thorny Ground Hearers.

Cares of the world. Deceitfulness. Riches and pleasures of this life. Desires that battle against the interest of the soul.

The Good Ground Hearers.

Notice the different degrees of fruitfulness.

He has an honest good heart.

Contrast between him and the way side hearer.

Notice he bears fruit. Let us consider our own degree of fruitfulness. Be filled with the spirit that we may bear fruit to His glory. Why did the Lord teach by parables?

A FINE DAY AT DEER CREEK

The Third Sunday in July at Deer Creek to be remembered by all who were the lucky to be there, yes I was there and I am better by being there. It was a Baptist occasion but what of that? At 10 o'clock in the a. m. the ushers had filled the house almost to overflowing a few minutes later the childrens service began and continued till the noon hour, with unbroken interest. They all rendered there part with credit to the highest mark. The Superintendent I am sure he has a promise of a bright future, we have not forgotten the organist, no she performed her part well, if I should be the judge. The singing was fine and we took special notice to the alto. Bro Gibbs made a splendid talk on the subject of missions, showing the different departments of the work from a systematic standpoint. After this your scribe together with the church clerk proceeded to take account of the subscription for missions which amounted to something over $40 at 12:30 o'clock we feuded our self with hundred of others and Felix Cox standing in view of what we might be reminded of the land that Kaleb and Joshua reported, and we saw no giants there. We, my stars, we wondered where they got all of this good truck. I have been waiting for some one to tell about Glendale. If they don't I will be able to not go I don't know when I will be able to not go. Don't fail to go to Hills Chapel on July the 21 this will be the great day of all days. The Bishop will be there and I will be there. After the noon hour you know something about how the people want to go to the shade and drink water well if you had of seen them eat you would have thought that a silent long shade would soon be the result. Some how it don't seem to hurt much we just keep a going.

The closing service was a good sermon by Bro. Gibbs from the subject of Heaven, well that will be his home and he has his title clear and it is no wonder he loves to talk about it.

WEN YOUR HOME LOOKS DULL AND DREARY

STOMACH DEAD MAN STILL LIVES

People who suffer from sour stomach fermentation of food, distress after eating and indigestion, and seek relief in large chunks of artificial digestors, are killing their stomachs by inaction just as surely as the victim of morphine is deadening and injuring beyond repair every nerve in his body. What the stomach of every sufferer from indigestion needs is a good prescription that will build up his stomach, put strength, energy and elasticity into it, and makes it sturdy enough to digest a hearty meal without artificial aid.

The best prescription for indigestion ever written is sold by druggists everywhere and by Haynes & Taylor and is rigidly guaranteed to build up the stomach and cure indigestion, or money back.

This prescription is named Mi-on-a, and is sold in small tablet form in large boxes, for only 50 cents. Remember the name Mi-on-a stomach tablets. They never fail.

The Crittenden Record-Press

N. E. CALMES Editor and Publisher.

Entered as second-class matter February 9th 1907 at the postoffice at Marion, Kentucky, under a Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

One Dollar the Year in Advance.

The Board of Health have distributed "Clean Up" notice over town that should be strictly adhered to.

The only unfavorable attitude of federal lawmakers and state officials towards the railways and the spirit which would prevent the companies from moderately advancing their charges to offset the increased cost of operation. When the manufacturer is obliged to pay higher prices for raw material and increased wages he does the only possible thing in the circumstances and correspondingly raises the charge for his product. The railways are obliged to pay increased prices for supplies and higher wages, and it is only reasonable that they should get more for what they sell, namely, transportation.

That they are impelled to raise their charges is plain from current traffic returns showing increased gross takings, while costs of operation have increased in still greater ratio, with resulting decrease in net earnings. Unless the greatest of all industries is permitted to prosper the country cannot be prosperous.

On account of the crowded condition there are many important articles and locals left out this week. Among them several obituaries. They will appear next week.

Remember the Record-Press is all printed at home and at twice the expense of the patent sheet, and even then we are crowded for room. We were compelled to leave out the announcement of the vast number of young ladies entering in our popular contest. But all will appear next week if we are forced to get out an extra edition.

A VISIT TO CRAYNE

On last Friday morning we visited the nice little city of Crayne and found it one of the nicest little rail road towns of our knowledge.

Every home looked as if freshly painted and the spirit of thrift was in evidence where ever you cast your eye. One thing to please us most of all was the care of the merchants and farmers for good roads. The hill at Crayne on the Marion road, once so rough as to be almost impassible, is now a turn-pike, all graveled from top to bottom and is now the best piece of road in the county. We understand that our good friend Dick Cruce is responsible for putting this move on foot and Judge Blackburn for helping him carry it out. If only the roads leading into Marion were half so good what a trade our merchants might expect.

J. T. Dorroh is proprietor of a nice general store and by courteous treatment and fair dealing has won for himself a splendid trade.

N. J. Bishop is the clever Postmaster with office in his nice general store. He has a nice line of goods for his customers to select from and tries to keep what they want.

The little city has but one church used alternately by the C. P. and U. S. A. Presbyterians, Rev. Oakley and Lockwood the pastors. J. A. Ordway is Supt. of the Sunday School.

J. E. Brown is the clever I. C. Agent.

Going from Crayne to Fredonia we found the roads much rougher than there is any need of for so nice a country. It was our first visit to the town in 32 years, and while people could never be made better than inhabited the good town in the olden day, it had grown and improved until we would not have known it. The rail road has brought about the change and has changed most of the business now down to the new part of town. For one to get off the train at Fredonia and look up the Main Street, it would impress him as a city of many times the size. The business houses are all new and of brick and there exists the spirit of thrift in every merchant. For as far as you can see on both sides of the street, the walks are concreted and about the nicest we have seen. We venture there is more concrete pavements in Fredonia than many towns five times the size. One of the best signs of a prosperous town is the preparation the merchants make for their customers. Such a store as is owned by Sam Howerton would grace the Main street of any city and is a guarantee that it pays him well to keep such a store with such an immense and varied line of everything nice and serviceable to wear, for men women and children. And this is not the only one by any means. Every store shows the spirit of thrift and progress.

W. E. Cox is proprietor of a general store that at once attracts the visitor or customer. The clean way in which his store is kept is characteristic of his goods.

Then there is Moores Drug Store, as nice as can be found anywhere. Hughes & Son city Grocery, Bennetts Dry Goods, Loyds Dry Goods, and many others that for the short time we were there we are unable to name.

Forsure it is a live bustling busy town, populated with a people as thrifty as can be found anywhere and the many courtesies shown us while there is sure to cause us to visit the good town as often as is possible for us to do so.

Those subscribing for the Record-Press the few hours we were there were:

J. T. Hughes, Dr. L. G. Taylor, W. E. Cox, J. W. Hughes, J. T. Brashier, Sam Brinkley, Dr. H. B. Wolf, J. L. Ray, H. C. Rice, S. R. Grimes, J. L. Jeffords, L. E. Travis, James King, O. R. Baker, J. E. Turley, E. N. Duncan.

A VISIT TO FRANCES

On our visit to Frances last Saturday we found the town alive with people making due preparation for the church Dedication the next day. Hon. M. F. Pogue owns one of the largest country stores in the county and from the appearance, is doing a wonderful business. He treated us as he does everyone, royally. The surrounding country is good and the road from Dycusburg to Frances to compare with the best in the county. Mr. Pogue has made a nice business and has a nice home and surrounding and we hope he may enjoy them to a ripe old age.

On our way home from Dycusburg last Saturday we were treated to some fine peaches by Mr. James King, a grand old gentleman living near Crayne. Many thanks to you Mr. King.

TO MAKE IT EASY FOR THE LADIES

That a woman's work is never done is a saying old and true, the first of the week is wash day, that's why they call Monday "blue"; and besides the cooking and baking, and the thousand other things, there's the sweeping and scrubbing, that many a backache brings. But the modern way of keeping house, the way it is done today curtains that old-time drudgery—it's much the better way. We use rugs in place of carpets, they're cleaner and look far the best, each floor with

GOOD WORK.

Done Daily in Marion. Many Citizens
Tell of It.

Nearly every reader has heard of Doan's Kidney Pills. Their good work in Marion still continues, and our citizens are constantly adding endorsement by public testimony. No better proof of merit can be had than the experience of friends and neighbors.
Read this case: J. O. Tabor, Marion, Ky., says: "I was afflicted with kidney trouble for about six years. The pains in my back were severe at times and when I was stooping or lifting, sharp twinges passed through my loins.
My back always ached more intensely at night and in the morning I felt very lame. I tired easily, was languid and nervous and had headaches. The kidney secretions also passed too frequently and caused me annoyance. I took the contents of one and a half boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Haynes & Taylor's Drug Store and they rid me of every symptom of my trouble. I am now in good health."
For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

WHAT A GREAT MAN SAID TO THE GREAT AMERICAN PEOPLE

Parisian Sage is a discovery of a celebrated scientist, who spent the best years of his life perfecting this great hair tonic.

In giving his recipe to the American people he said: "Parisian Sage is the most delightful hair dressing in the world. It cures dandruff by killing the germs that infest the roots of the hair; it stops falling hair; it gives vigor and strength to the hair roots.
Haynes & Taylor sell Parisian Sage at 50c a large bottle and guarantees it to do all that is claimed for it, or your money is refunded. It stops falling hair, dandruff and itching scalp in two weeks.

Free Child's Remedy

What mother is not looking for something that will help her children in the little ills of life, something for the stomach trouble and the bowel trouble? Long ago she probably has become convinced that a child cannot readily swallow a pill or a tablet, and that to "break them in half and crush them" is an annoyance that usually they work too dramatically, and are nauseating and too powerful for the little one's stomach.
 Any mother who will take the trouble of sending her name and address can obtain a free sample bottle of a remedy that thousands of other mothers are using and now paying for. This remedy is Dr.
 Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and the offer of a free trial bottle is open to any mother who has not yet used it. Having used it and convinced yourself that it is what you want, you can obtain it in the future of your drugist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, just as so many others are doing, the free sample being simply to convince you of its merits. It is the best way to begin on it. Mrs. L.
 Davis of 187 W. Harrison street, Chicago, and Mrs. Mary Belford, 1710 Coke street, Louisville, Ky., both started with a free sample and now they write that they have never been without a bottle in the house since.
 It is undoubtedly a great family remedy, as it is adapted to all ages, being mild and pleasant to take and yet thoroughly effective. It is especially the ideal remedy for children and women and old folks, who need something pure, mild and natural. It has the advantage of being a thorough laxative and yet contains no toxic properties. Use it for the most stubborn constipation, indigestion, liver trouble, sick headache, sour stomach and such complaints with a guarantee that it will cure.
 Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. I explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail.
 For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 1500 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

NEITHER WAS JEALOUS

By F. TOWNSEND SMITH
 Copyright, 1910, by American Press
 Association.

"Frank," said Lucy to me, "marriage is a very serious matter."
 "How did you find that out at eighteen?"
 "I am much older at eighteen than some girls are at twenty-five. Now, there are certain faults my husband might possess which I would not be able to endure, but others wouldn't trouble me. Before we take the final step I propose to test you to discover if you have one especial fault that I am sure would separate us."
 "But if you tell me you're going to test me but that giving away the whole thing?"
 "My object in telling you beforehand is that I shall have to seem to act wrongfully to you. I shall be able to tell you that I had an object. You understand?"
 "Certainly. And I suppose that I had better tell you that I'm going to test you, too, so that if I behave badly you'll understand."
 "If I'm supposed when you told me that I was far too good for you you meant it?"
 "And I supposed that when you said I was the best fellow in the world and you were proud to be loved by me?"
 "Don't be silly. I sometimes think that you at twenty-three are younger than I am at eighteen. How are you going to test me?"
 "How are you going to test me? I mean what for?"

She did some very hard thinking in that youthful head of hers and then said: "It won't do any harm if I tell you I'm going to make you jealous.
 Jealousy separates more married couples than any other cause."
 "Did you get that from a starlettude?"
 "Now you're talking absurd again."
 "Very well; go ahead; make me jealous. But I warn you that your plan will be a failure. Suppose you succeed?"
 "In that case I shall consider that it wouldn't be safe to marry you."
 "I shall test you for the same fault.
 But if I don't succeed I shall consider that it won't be safe to marry you."
 "Why not?"
 "It will indicate that you don't love me. No one can love another without jealousy."
 "Except having perfect confidence in that other."
 "Very well. We'll try it."
 And we did try it with a vengeance.
 When we came together again we resumed our dialogue.

"It's all over between us," said Lucy, both sad and angry.
 "Didn't I stand the test?" I asked in an injured tone.
 "I should think not. You haven't spoken a word to me for a week."
 "I was testing you."
 "Was it necessary to test me by constantly sailing past here with that one girl—a girl you know I despise?"
 "It wouldn't be any test to flirt with two."
 "I flirted with half a dozen."
 "It wasn't for me to tell you how to test a fiancee."
 "I should think not. I couldn't have acted on your advice if it was to act as sensibly as you have acted."
 "It seems to me that I have stood your test and you haven't stood mine."
 "Do you call it a test to select a girl like that and go about all the while with her looking as if you were about to kiss her? It was disgusting."
 "And didn't you go about looking up lovingly at Scribner? I didn't care for the other fellows—they were blonds. Scribner was the real thing."
 "I'm glad I have him to fall back upon now it's all over with you."
 "And I suppose Camilla will help me out."
 "I wish you to understand that no man to whom I am engaged shall pay the slightest attention to such a girl."
 "Not for a test?"
 "Not on any account. I consider it an insult to me. If you had taken some of the other girls, such as Grace or Alice or Bess—"
 "No one of those girls would do for a test. Grace is homely as a hedge fence. Alice is cold as an icicle, and as for Bess—"
 "They are all at least to be respected."
 "Yes, and they are your friends.
 They're so much to be respected that they wouldn't take your fiance away from you, because—"
 "Because?"
 "Both you and they know they couldn't."
 I was getting tired of this and resolved to bring it to a close.

"I say, Lucy, I am delighted at the success of my test on you."
 "Delighted?"
 "Yes. Didn't I tell you that love begets jealousy?"
 "Jealousy? You flatter yourself if you suppose you can make me jealous of that creature."
 "I am awfully jealous of Scribner."
 "Because he is such a perfect gentleman, I suppose."
 "He wouldn't kiss and tell, I admit.
 Come; we've each tested the other with remarkable success—that is, we've proved we love each other."
 I took her in my arms. She was mollified.

"I knew you loved me," I said. "The test didn't amount to anything, though. You weren't jealous, were you?"
 "Certainly not!"
 "Nor was I."

HE PAID THE RECKONING

By MOLLIE K. WETHERELL
 Copyright, 1910, by American Press
 Association.

A long while ago, when the people of Europe lived in an artistic atmosphere, a stranger stopped one evening at a peasant's cottage in the south of Spain and asked for supper and a night's lodging. He was made welcome and comfortable so far as these poor peasants were able to make him.

The family consisted of a man perhaps thirty-five years of age; his wife, a young woman of twenty-two or twenty-three, and their child, a boy about eight months old. While the stranger was eating his supper his eyes were constantly fixed upon the man, who sat smoking his pipe by the chimney, turning them from him to the woman who sat on the opposite side, nursing her baby. In the man's face was a certain repose, a contentment with the world and with his lot in it. The woman's, though that of a peasant, was tinged with a certain indescribable spirituality. When the child sat up to his mother's lap and looked at the guest his eyes were opened very wide, and there was an appearance of intelligence in them beyond babyhood, beyond childhood—even, it seemed at times, beyond manhood.

When the stranger had eaten his supper he said: "I shall be gone in the morning before you are up. Please tell me what is the reckoning, that I may pay it now, for my supper and my bed."
 "There is nothing to be paid, señor," said the man. "What we have given you to eat, while it is good enough for us, is not good enough for a gentleman like you. At any rate, it is not of any real value. As for the bed you are to sleep on, you will fare no better than the mules. What presumption, señor, it would be for us to take money for these things. By doing so we would call down the displeasure of our patron saint."
 The stranger made no reply to this, but, taking up a candle, mounted a rude staircase. In the morning, however, he was still in the cottage, coming down from his room after the peasant and his wife had breakfasted.
 The woman gave him what remained in the house for a meal, after which he said:

"You will not permit me to pay for your hospitality, but possibly you may accept a gift at my hands. I am an artist and will draw your likenesses."
 To this the husband demurred, saying that the gentleman's time was too valuable to be spent sketching poor peasants, but the wife took a woman's view of the matter. She wished for the portraits of her husband, herself and especially her child. So she persuaded the man to sit with her and their boy for the stranger to copy.

The artist placed the woman in a chair, holding her child in a standing position, while the man stood looking over her shoulder at both her and the boy. Then from a portfolio he had with him he took out drawing materials, and, improvising an easel out of a chair, he set to work. He made a number of outline sketches of the three, also filling in separate drawings of them. When he had finished he put them away and said:

"I shall take away what I have done with me, but this," selecting one of them, "I will return to you. If you desire to improve your condition or are in need of money you may be able to sell it for a fair price."
 With that the artist took up his portfolio and departed.

Some time after this when the peasant had forgotten the incident and his wife was lamenting because the artist had neglected to send the sketch a man appeared, saying that he had been sent with it by the artist. It was in a frame, and in one corner a name was written. But the name was not familiar to the peasants. They hung the picture on the wall and were very proud of it. When the neighbors came in to look at it they would be asked,
 "Are not the figures like us?" and the reply would be: "Yes, they are like you, but they are holy people. Your baby resembles our blessed Saviour!"

The peasants kept the picture for many years. Meanwhile they grew to be old and their boy became a young man. He loved the daughter of a wine grower, but she was without dowry, and he was without any means to set up housekeeping. Then his mother remembered the artist's words that they might sell the picture for a price. Her husband had no faith in this, but the boy, who was in love, begged his mother to try. Her affection for her son triumphed over her desire to keep the sketch, and with him she went to Seville.

On reaching the city she went to a church to pray for the success of their undertaking. When they came to the altar both stood still in amazement. There before them was their sketch in painted colors inclosed in a massive frame. It represented Mary and Joseph and the infant Jesus.
 The next day people gathered in knots to discuss a bit of news. A peasant woman and her son had come in from the south with the original sketch of one of the most famous of Murillo's paintings of the holy family. They did not know its value, but when a dealer told them that there were persons who would give a thousand sequins for it they were amazed.
 They agreed to take this amount, the dealer taking the risk of selling it at a profit. Then the two peasants went home happy.

ECZEMA---A GERM DISEASE CAN NOW BE CURED

The Medical profession is all agreed that ECZEMA is a germ disease, but the thing that has baffled them is the germ remedy that will get to the germ and destroy them.

Zemo's cream, external treatment has solved this difficulty by crawling the germs to the surface of the skin and destroying the germ life that causes the disease. The whole method of treatment and cure by Zemo is explained in an interesting book on the subject issued by the makers of ZEMO.
 It tells how to cure yourself, at home of Eczema, Blackheads, Pimples, Dandruff, and all diseases of the skin and scalp. Call at Haynes & Taylor's Drug Store for Booklet and learn more about this clean, simple remedy that is now recognized the standard treatment for all diseases of the skin and scalp.

 The Fisher Shipp Concert Company, the second number of the lecture courses appeared at the G. A. R. hall on Monday night.
 A good house greeted them and they were not disappointed, as they went there to be entertained, and they were, in royal style. Miss Ship is a beautiful singer and an excellent reader, and the rest of the company were equally as good in their respective parts. At the Majestic Theatre June 27.
